

E3 Compliance Conference

17 October 2011

9.00am – 5.30pm (Registration from 8.00am)

Venue:

Stamford Plaza, Sydney Airport

The Equipment Energy Efficiency (E3) Committee will hold an important event at the Stamford Plaza, Sydney Airport to discuss changes to the compliance and enforcement practices relating to energy efficiency regulations.

This will provide an opportunity for participants to have their say on the design of compliance and enforcement under the proposed Greenhouse and Energy Minimum Standards (GEMS), which will provide a uniform legislative framework across Australia and is now close to parliamentary introduction.

Other topics to be covered include:

- Proposed criteria for targeting check tests.
- Update on international compliance activities, with guest speaker Richard Frewin of the UK Market Surveillance Authority.
- Results of recent compliance activities in Australia and New Zealand.

Attendance is limited to 100 key industry representatives, regulators and government officials. As space is limited, preference will be given to early registrations and pre-registration not later than 16 September 2011 is required.
